Voting Delegates of the Association for the upcoming Ordinary Meeting to be held during the ISTA Annual Meeting 2011 in Tsukuba, Japan, June 13 - 16

Dear Madam, Dear Sir,

Following the ISTA Constitution, only Governments have a voting right in ISTA.

The voting right of the Governments is executed by one Designated Member during the Ordinary Meeting. The Designated Member is a member of the Association and must be designated by the Government, through a Designated Authority. A Government, through the Designated Authority, can nominate more than one ISTA Member as Designated Member.

However, before the Ordinary Meeting, the Government through the Designated Authority has to nominate the Designated Member who is executing the voting right on behalf of the Government at the upcoming Ordinary Meeting.

According to our files, the following persons are members of the ISTA and currently designated by your Government as Designated Member(s) of ISTA:
